Mrs. Alice Turner, the blond haired wife of Commodore Turner is today alleged by Richmond police to have been the mysterious woman "raffles" sought for the last year. This statement from local police headquarters follows the report of a robbery recently by Deputy Coroner Walter Gorham, 546 Nevada avenue, around whose residence several woman's footprints were found.

While at the county jail his residence was searched and several counterfeiting moulds discovered.

The Red Front variety store operated by the Clark & Roller, Inc., at Eleventh and Macdonald avenue, have decided to discontinue doing business in Richmond in the near the good will of the public, as seen here for the past three years and during that time have earned the good will of the public here, as they always carried a full and complete stock of merchandise such as the variety stores carry, and no doubt the bargains and low prices that always prevailed at their store will be missed by the Richmond people. CHARGE AGAINST DE MARTINI IS DEFECTIVE

MARTINEZ, January 18.—That John DeMartini was not properly committed by the magistrate and that the accusation against him is not legally one of embezzlement is the contention of W. S. Tinning and M. R. Jones, attorneys for the former cashier of the Danville bank who asked to have the information set aside before Judge A. B. McKenzie Monday afternoon.

The latter point is a new one in the local courts it being said that under the testimony introduced that the crime, if one was committed, might be robbery or burglary rather than embezzlement. THE NEWSPAPER VIEWPOINT

Here is the experience of a certain newspaper editor. How would you like to fill his shoes? He was known as a booster, always doing his utmost to push every good thing along. And without his pushing the results would have been slim.

One day a church delegation called at his office and announced that the church needed funds and was arranging to give a bazaar. "We are going to depend upon your assistance," they said, "for we know without newspaper publicity we will not have much of a crowd, and we want everybody to come and buy." The editor did push, and the crowd made much profit from the editorial efforts.

But before the delegation left the office the editor suggested that they run a display advertisement of the bazaar in the paper. This the church people tabooed on the ground that it would be a useless expense, as the news article would accomplish the desired result.

The articles sold at the bazaar were purchased from local dealers at cost and were sold at high prices. The editor brought in the crowds from everywhere, paid his own expenses, and received nothing for his labors. "Something for nothing."

Here's another case: A certain local lodge sent a delegation to the editor and requested him to boost a state meeting of the order that was coming to that town. When he asked them about the program and other printing, they blandly told him that the printing committee had taken the printing to a job office down the street that had no newspaper in connection. Again the editor pushed and charged it up to "something for nothing."

And then the members of a Sunday school asked the editor to publish a number of articles boosting a rally day of the school. It needed publicity and the editor was depended upon to open up his columns and make it a success. He did—but the announcements, tags, etc., were printed at another office. And with this pushing, too, he gave "something for nothing" and paid the freight.

A merchant once remodeled his store, increased his stock and arranged for a great sale. He went to another concern for his hand bills and announcements, and then visited the editor and suggested that it was worth a big writeup in the paper—for the benefit of the people, you know! He never advertised, he said, but he was quite of the opinion that such an important event required special mention in the press. He got it like the chicken. Too much "something for nothing."

The columns of a newspaper are the publisher's stock in trade. If they are of value to a money making scheme they are worth paying for. The business man demands his price for his goods, the professional man and the laborer for their services, the farmer for his products and the preacher for his sermons—and they get it.

Is the editor not human, that he alone must be asked to advance without compensation the interests of undertakings founded and conducted upon a monetary consideration?

Or is he, like the horse, expected to give "something for nothing" to the end of his days?

There is also a good deal of difference of opinion about what constitutes a liberal reward.

CIVILIZATION'S DEMAND

During a debate in the United States senate the other day, several senators insisted that Americans should keep off belligerent ships, or be kept off by the government to avoid involving us with the European powers. Thereupon Senator Nelson of Minnesota quietly punctured their argument by calling attention to the fact that "the neutral countries of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland have, altogether, lost as many ships as has the British government."

That is to say, neutral vessels seem to have been no safer for neutrals and non-combatants than British vessels. The governments responsible for the murderous submarine warfare have pretended to differentiate between neutral and belligerents, but they have not done so scrupulously. And even the concessions which have diminished the proportion of neutral ships sunk in the last few months were made solely because of the indignant protests of the United States.

Therein is the point of the whole business. The only hope of maintaining international law and human rights lies in the unflinching championship of them by our government.

If we yield the right of American citizens to travel on peaceful ships of any nationality whatever, we thereby surrender such ships to the mercy of a new, barbarous warfare void of mercy. And if we permit one breach in the wall of neutral right, the whole wall crumbles. If we will not defend our citizens traveling lawfully under allied flags, how can we defend them when traveling under neutral flags—even under our own?

We have a right to sail the seas without any new and artificial restrictions imposed by Austria and Germany, or we have no rights at all—at least, none that the Central Powers will respect. And the assertion of such rights is not merely pig-headedness or selfish pride. Our government is the spokesman of all neutrals, and therefore of international law and sanity, and of civilization itself. If our rights are surrendered, we surrender with them the inalienable sea rights of all nations who keep peace and attend to their own business.

Our army hasn't guns enough, "guns" in military parlance, meaning cannon, but building a large crop of postoffices may seem more important to congress.

Another Christmas is coming, but Hank Ford seems to have lost interest in the work of getting the boys out of the trenches by that time.

Senator J. Ham Lewis also predicts the nomination of Roosevelt, but a prophet with pink whiskers is apt to be without honor abroad as well as in his home town.

A particularly good-looking man is a great aggravation to the rest of us ugly mugs.

Don't forget that you can take yourself so seriously that you will become a joke.

While one should cultivate politeness, it is often expensive to practice it on a book agent.

The most conservative man is occasionally guilty of Big Talk about something or other.

As seen by Taft, "good Lord and devil" tactics will not work any better in politics than in other things.

RAILROAD COMMISSION UPHOLD
BY SUPREME COURT IN MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT CASE

The supreme court of California today handed down two decisions supporting orders of the Railroad Commission in the cases of the Marin Water and Power Company of California, and the California Development company.

The Marin Water and Power company case was the first case in which the supreme court passed upon the validity of the provisions of the public utilities act empowering the commission to fix the value of public utility property in eminent domain proceedings. This provision permits any city or water district or other municipal corporations to ask the commission to fix the value of the property of any public utility which it desires to purchase. The Marin Municipal Water district asked the commission to fix the just compensation to be paid to the Marin Water and Power company for the latter's property. The commission fixed the value at $1,200,000. The company appealed to the supreme court to overthrow the commission's decision, claiming that the commission had no authority to fix the value and further that the value fixed was too low, and thus deprived them of their property without due process of law. The company also claimed that the commission should have made a separate finding of value for each item of the property, instead of an aggregate value for the entire property.

This decision of the supreme court which upholds the commission's order in every particular, now opens the way for the district to proceed to acquire the properties of the Marin Water and Power company at the price fixed by the commission. The case for the commission was presented by Douglas Brookman, attorney for the Railroad Commission, and the decision was written by Justice Shaw of the supreme court. The case is important because it upholds the power of the commission to fix just compensation to be paid for public utility property purchased in condemnation proceedings.

The city of San Diego and the city of Santa Monica have instituted similar proceedings before the commission to have the commission fix the value of the water company properties in those cities. The city of Los Angeles has asked the commission to fix the value of the property of the Southern California Edison company, and this proceeding is now being held before Commissioner Edgerton at Los Angeles.

The decision in the California Development company case which was also written by Justice Shaw refuses to overrule an order of the commission finding that the California Development company is a public utility. The California Development company is the sole company supplying water to the Imperial valley. Complaints were made to the Railroad Commission against the rates charged by this company. The company claimed that it was not a public utility subject to the Railroad commission. The commission made an order declaring that the company was a public utility, whereupon the company appealed to the supreme court. While the supreme court does not say expressly that the company is a public utility it declines to overrule the order of the Railroad Commission, and states that the proceeding before the court was premature.

An irrigation district has been formed in the Imperial valley to take over the property of the California Development company, and negotiations for the transfer of the property are practically completed.

The Pacific Electric Railway has filed with the Railroad Commission an application for authority to build a spur track across Huntington Drive, Upland, and across Foothill boulevard along Orange Grove avenue, crossing Eleventh street and Mesa avenue, San Bernardino county.

$5.00 AT CHERRY'S!

A woman often does without a suit even when she really needs one badly. She often thinks, "I'll buy when some good reliable store has a sale." But when the sale that appeals to her comes she usually has no cash that can be spared. You know how it goes. The early part of January is always a great time for sales. But hundreds of the women who would love to pass up the bargains, because Christmas and the first of the year have combined to leave them with near-empty purses.

CHERRY'S SALE IS DIFFERENT. Cash isn't required, or even expected, even though they have a lot of their suits reduced to $5. Just think $5 for a suit made of Serge, gabardine or a nice mixture! It's the custom at this popular Clothing Store for patrons to USE THEIR CREDIT.

You might try it tomorrow, if you need a suit. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Only a fraction of the price need be paid when you select your garment. Just arrange for weekly or monthly installments to cover the rest. CHERRY'S shop at 515 13th street is devoted exclusively to ladies' goods, and remember they have the same bargains at 528 13th street, between Washington and Clay streets. CHERRY'S also have two stores in San Francisco, one at 1009 Market street and the other at 2400 Mission street. These handle both ladies' and men's goods. Other Pacific coast stores in Portland, Sacramento and Los Angeles.—Adv.

TELLS ON THE KIDNEYS

Richmond People Have Found This To Be True.

The strain of overwork tells on weakened kidneys. The hurry and worry of business men, the heavy lifting and stooping of workmen, the women's household cares, tend to weaken and injure the kidneys until they can no longer filter the poison from the blood and the whole body for weakened kidneys; tired, worn-out backs—have proven their merit in thousands of such cases. Convincing proof of their worth in a Richmond citizen's statement.

Mrs. M. E. Stubblefield, 534 Ripley Ave., Richmond, says: "One of the family suffered from attacks of backache and often felt too sick and run down to do any housework. Doan's Kidney Pills cured this case. Recently, I gave Doan's Kidney Pills to one of my relatives who had weak kidneys and couldn't control the kidney secretions. It wasn't long before this weakness went away."

Price 50¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Stubblefield recommends. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. adv.

CROSSING WILL BE
HIGHWAY

MARTINEZ, January 13.—The Southern Pacific company has agreed to Contra Costa county's terms regarding the construction of the overhead crossing of the railroad track on the Martinez-Bay Point road at Peyton and the supervisors will shortly issue a call for bids for building the bridge.

The railroad objected to paying its half of the cost of the bridge as planned, when owing to a change in the plans and the rise in the cost of steel it was found that the bridge will cost close to $10,000 instead of $6000 as originally planned. The matter was gone into by the Railroad Commission at a hearing in Martinez but before the commission was called upon to give a decision the railroad accepted the terms and will now stand half of the cost which will be about $5000 each.

The call for bids will be issued probably at the next meeting of the supervisors and work will commence as soon as possible after the contract is awarded.

This assistance will cost the county probably $500, but they figure it an economy as against the cost of transporting prisoners. City Trustee Henry Bott of Concord appeared before the board this morning and requested that the supervisors appropriate funds for the jail. District Attorney Johnston stated that he believed the county would save money by such a move and after considerable discussion it was decided that the board would assist not to exceed $500, but that the city must do its share.

GREAT STORM SWEEPS STATE FROM EUREKA TO SAN DIEGO

SAN FRANCISCO, January 18.—Forecasting more wind, rain and storm for the entire state, the weather bureau today issued warnings to Southern California and the San Joaquin valley to prepare for even more serious floods and heavy rains than swept the southern part of the state yesterday.

A special message from the Los Angeles weather office to District Forecaster Willson this morning said that the storm center undoubtedly was off the coast between San Francisco and San Diego, and that the deluge of yesterday would be repeated in the south today.

Willson believes that the rain and melting snows in the mountains will cause the rivers in the south to rise still higher.

FLOOD WARNINGS ISSUED

Flood warnings have been sent to all points in the imperiled territory. Southeast storm warnings are displayed today along the coast from San Diego to Port Harford.

"Indications point to floods far more destructive than yesterday. The danger is greater today in Southern California and the San Joaquin valley than these regions have felt in many winters," said Willson. "There is no chance for a change in conditions."

"Unsettled weather with rain to-night and Wednesday" is the forecast for the entire state.

RAINFALL FIGURES

The rainfall for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning follows:

Corona, 2.70; Pasadena, 3.28; Pomona, 4.84; Redlands, 1.70; Riverside, 1.14; San Bernardino, 3.73; Santa Barbara, 2.68; San Fernando, 2.92; Los Angeles, 2.04; San Luis Obispo, 1.26; Stockton, 4.4; Merced, .30; Lindsay, .70; Porterville, 1.02; Bakersfield, .60; San Jose, .06; Mt. Tamalpais, .32; Fresno, .34; Eureka, .38, and San Francisco, .38.

The rainfall for the forty-eight hours ending this morning was reported as follows from Southern California points:

Los Angeles 7.54 inches, San Luis Obispo 3.74, San Fernando 6.70, Santa Barbara 4.22, San Bernardino 6.56, Riverside 3.40, Redlands 4.32, Pomona 8.34, Corona 5.38 and Pasadena 7.32.

No reports have been received by the weather bureau today from San Diego. A gale is blowing in the southern part of the state. Only light rains fell north of Fresno and there is promise of continuance of this condition.

LOS ANGELES, January 18.—Damage to the extent of $1,000,000 is estimated today for the storm which since last Sunday has swept Southern California.

Four men were killed, two by drawing and two by short circuited electric wires, while dozens of others throughout the entire district had narrow escapes. Traffic on all railroads and electric lines is still in bad condition, and probably will not be adjusted for several days, even should the rain cease now.

HUNDREDS WORK ON DEBRIS

Hundreds of men worked all night and continued today in an effort to clear away wreckage and washouts.

The Los Angeles Gas company today is preparing to make artificial gas, as fear is felt that gas mains may be cut off if the storm continues.

Rivers continue to rise and several bridges in Los Angeles and other parts of Southern California are imperiled. Two bridges there are closed under orders of the police.

Several small houses have been undermined and swept several feet off their foundations. One house was seen floating down Los Angeles river late yesterday. Dynamite is being used to clear the Arroyo Seco of wreckage and prevent an overflow into the residence districts adjoining. Near Bell Station, the Los Angeles river is three miles wide and houses stand in midstream.

POMONA LOSS HEAVY

Pomona is suffering intensely, according to reports from there. Downtown streets are under water and rich orchards are said to have been seriously damaged. The loss there is estimated at $500,000.

Trains which were stalled early yesterday are still at a standstill, with no immediate prospects of continuing. The Salt Lake, Southern Pacific and Santa Fe all report washouts.

Nathan Straus, Fredrick William Vanderbilt and several other millionaires en route here are held up. Sev-

THE SELBY SCHOOL BONDS BRING PREMIUM OF $501.00

MARTINEZ, January 18.—Ten bids for the $11,000 issue of Selby school bonds were opened this morning by County Treasurer J. R. Baker, and the extraordinary offers made show that the bond market is again on a firm basis.

The highest premium offered was that of the Torrance, Marshall and Camp company, of San Francisco. That firm offered $501. While the county treasurer did not make the award until he could consult with the district attorney over some legal points, it is understood that he will give this firm the bonds.

The various bids follow: State Board of Control, $11,375. G. G. Blymyer Co., San Francisco, TAFT, January 18.—Three hundred oil derricks collapsed in the height of a tornado here yesterday and much damage was done. All oil companies with properties in this section suffered losses. Thirty-nine rigs of the General Petroleum company were destroyed, while other companies also lost many rigs.

Boiler houses and smokestacks alike fell before the hurricane. Several roofs in Taft were carried away and several large buildings severely damaged.

Rig builders who up to this time have been idle are demanding $10 a day for their work.

Several persons were slightly injured.

AMERICA MUST SUPPLY FOOD TO EUROPE

PARIS, January 18.—"The world is soon to see an economic organization on an international scale far different in kind and extent from anything hitherto known," said M. P. Peixotto, president of the American Chamber of Commerce, at the twenty-second annual dinner of that organization.

"The European nations are laying plans for a fierce commercial struggle, which will begin in the near future. In France this subject is being studied with passionate interest," he said.

France will control her own commerce, Mr. Peixotto continued, but will need co-operation.

One of France's prime needs is the importation not only of raw materials but also of machinery and manufactured goods. The allies of France can not supply her needs. The United States alone can do so.

To take advantage of the vast and hitherto only partially utilized sources of supply from the United States, France must permit American manufacturers to compete on terms of tariff equality with other nations.

U. S. MAY INTERVENE IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, January 18.—President Wilson and the members of his cabinet delved deep into the Mexican situation today. All information received by his department was presented by Secretary of State Lansing. He also gave a verbal summary of the mass of data compiled for submission to the senate in answer to Senator's Fall's resolution.

Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, held a short conference with Secretary Lansing before the cabinet meeting. Stone later said that he expected to get the state department's data by tomorrow afternoon.

Secretary Lansing, it is understood, told President Wilson and the members of his cabinet that the United States could intervene in Mexico without regard to any other country.

"The United States," he is reported as saying, "is not entangled in any alliances with other countries. Reports that an agreement has been made with South American republics to act jointly with the United States in the event of intervention are false."

WANTS COUNTY TO CARE FOR HIGHWAYS IN TOWN LIMITS

MARTINEZ, January 18.—Walnut Creek, still an incorporated town, has requested the county supervisors to build two bridges in the town and construct two and one-half miles of highway through that place. A mass meeting of the citizens was held the other night and a committee was appointed to take the matter up with the supervisors and arrange for the county to bear the expense, which will be about $50,000 for the entire job.

The following statement, signed by the entire board of supervisors, has been made to the Walnut Creek contingent, which exactly fits the case and will be coincided with by the taxpayers of the county generally:

"Pursuant to your request for a statement of our intention regarding the building of the county highway from the tunnel called the Inter County Tunnel to the county line, south of Byron, we hereby state:

"That at the time we initiated this county highway we stated that we did not intend to build through the incorporated towns, believing that we had no right to do so, and further that the incorporated towns should build the road through their own territory, and we told the people of Walnut Creek at that time that we would not build the highway through their town, should the town become incorporated, and we have not changed our intention.

"The city of Pittsburg will build its own highway wherein passes through that city; the city of Antioch has let the contract to build a permanent highway through its territory, and the town of Concord has already built a permanent highway through its territory.

"Therefore, while Walnut Creek is an incorporated town, it is not our intention to build through Walnut Creek. Should the town disincorporate, and go back as a part of the county, in that case we would build the highway as we originally laid it out, which means a continuance road through your city and through the town.

"We feel that the town on becoming incorporated signifies its ability to take care of its own roads and bridges and we expect them to do so should they remain incorporated."
